

Disabling Inequality in the Workplace

You probably know that WAM has a unique approach to improving inclusive workplace practices - simultaneously developing the potential of employers and graduates with disabilities.

But did you know WAM...

- Consistently sources high calibre graduates for major public and private sector employers.
- Has already provided over 150 placements for graduates with disabilities.
- Made it possible for 48% of graduates who completed placements in the private sector to progress to full-time work.
- Provided training to 300+ professionals at approximately 40
   employer events on topics ranging from: Inclusive Recruitment & Selection, Assistive Technology, Mental Health, Equality
   Legislation and Resilience.
- Engaged with a significant number of employers in producing 5 publications and 2 surveys.
- Has been cited by the NDA, Amnesty International and Eurofound as a model of good practice.
- Recognises the importance of learning from the employer experience and sharing this with a larger community of employers.
- Together with its leaders is rethinking the workplace.
